

Tillamook County Cultural Coalition

Granting funds locally for the Oregon Cultural Trust

2023 TCCC GRANT GUIDELINES

Deadline for Applications: November 15, 2022 (5 pm PST)

All required application materials must be submitted by email in one complete PDF document addressed to the TCCC Chair at: tillamookccc@gmail.com

BACKGROUND

The Tillamook County Cultural Coalition (TCCC) was formed and developed its cultural plan, approved by the Oregon Cultural Trust, in 2004. It uses funds from the Trust to grant monies to cultural programs in Tillamook County. The citizens of Tillamook County set these priorities for cultural projects:

- Education
- Community Arts
- Heritage
- Environment
- Traditions

We encourage you to read the entire TCCC plan available on the Tillamook County Pioneer Museum website, Tillamook County Cultural Coalition tab, tcpm.org/tillamook-co-cultural-coalition.

The TCCC first awarded cultural grants in Tillamook County in 2006. Each year the TCCC receives funds from the Oregon Cultural Trust. The state of Oregon enacted legislation in 2002 (ORS 359.431) to become one of the first states in the nation to establish a cultural funding program, the Oregon Cultural Trust. The Trust, by statute, works to:

- Protect and stabilize Oregon cultural resources, creating a solid foundation for the future;
- Expand public awareness of, quality of, access to, and use of culture in Oregon;
- Ensure that Oregon cultural resources are strong and dynamic contributors to Oregon's communities and quality of life.

Each year one-third of Trust monies go to County Cultural Coalitions. Coalitions, in turn, grant those funds to local cultural programs or projects. To learn more about the Trust, go to www.culturaltrust.org.

ELIGIBILITY

Grant applicants must:

- Be an individual(s), a nonprofit organization, or a governmental organization
- Be a resident of Tillamook County, if an individual.
- Maintain a registered headquarters in Tillamook County, if an organization.
- NOT benefit only the organization's members or adherents.
- NOT propagandize or otherwise attempt to directly influence elections or legislation.
- NOT request funds for on-going operations. TCCC funds may not be used to fund salaries, but funding may be available for project-specific contract positions.

EVALUATION CRITERIA

Grant proposals must:

- Address at least one of the five priorities established by the TCCC plan (if the plan addresses one or more of these priorities, it is likely to score better).
- Identify and explain the need for this proposal.
- Benefit a defined wide audience in Tillamook County.
- Identify and describe the audience to be served.
- Identify plans to promote the project.
- Describe how the public will access the project once completed.
- Be clear, specific and identify planned results -- what is expected to be accomplished.*
- Be specific in identifying the strategies to be used to get to the results.*
- Identify measurements by which you will know you have achieved targeted results. The TCCC Plan calls for two kinds of measurements: quantitative benchmarks and qualitative indicators of success.
- Identify the project manager, staff, and lead volunteers including names, qualifications, bios, time involved and role.
- Provide a project budget summary and budget detail (including in-kind and other funding sources).
- Include a timetable with expected results or accomplishments.
- Include letters of support from at least three other organizations, groups, or individuals. The nature of the support should be clearly stated in the letter. These letters should demonstrate how this project will enhance and support the TCCC priorities and specific grant request.
- New: The TCCC logo provided must be used on any signage or print materials. Guidelines will be provided to grant recipients.
- Please review your applications carefully before sending. Incomplete applications will be disqualified.

RESULTS, STRATEGIES

Grant applicants need to be clear and specific about the results expected. While process is important, TCCC needs to know exactly what applicants expect to accomplish with grant funds. In describing the project, applicants will identify the strategies to be employed to accomplish the goals.

Sample Results. The XYZ Project will:

- Produce two (one spring, one fall) all-school concerts that take place during school assemblies.
- Take the concerts to two other schools (one per school), and
- Offer the concerts in two evening programs for parents and the community.

Sample Strategies. (There could be a lot more strategies on this one project.)

- The XYZ Project will engage 3 classes of students (about 60-75 students) to produce the concerts from beginning to end.
- The XYZ Project will engage two other schools and school district support to take the concerts to two different schools.

QUANTITATIVE BENCHMARKS, QUALITATIVE INDICATORS OF SUCCESS

Quantitative Benchmarks are measurements that can be counted.

For example:

- 10 students were involved in producing the concerts.
- 25 people were involved in performing the concerts.
- 600 people attended the school concert(s) across all performances.
- 6 schoolteachers and administrators will work with students in the production of the concerts.

Qualitative Indicators of Success have to do with things we know have happened but are difficult to measure since they cannot be “counted.”

For example:

- How did participants feel? Feedback and testimonials from participants
- Was the experience positive and why?
- What did you learn and what would you do differently?

The Oregon Cultural Trust and TCCC want to make sure that applicants and project managers keep in mind the targeted Qualitative Indicators of Success throughout the period of the project. Both the Mid-Term Project Report and Final Project Report should describe the success of the project, in part, with quantitative and qualitative Indicators of Success.
